

Buddhism into the 21st Century

International Summer School Hamburg

28 July – 01 August 2008

www.summerschool-buddhism.de

Buddhism seems to have taken root in the West. But what is Buddhism; a religion, a science, a philosophy or a meditation system? How has it influenced the West?

The 2008 Summer School of the University of Hamburg Center for Buddhist Studies is explicitly designed for European and international students from all fields of study. It considers exciting questions and offers answers and discussions from an academic point of view.

Asien-Afrika-Institut

Center for Buddhist Studies

Universität Hamburg